A strong French army is in the direct path that the Germans must take and it is believed that an important battle cannot be avoided.

The town is fourteen miles west by south of Germany's strong fortress at Metz.

BILLS TO GUARD U.S.

Extension of American Registry and Naval Mail Service Are Pressed.

While Europe is mobilizing and war road is beginning, Congress and the Aministration continue to take measres to avert any financial strain his country and to enable the United States to look on with poise and calm while the rest of the world fights. Today, the final touches will be given to the bill amending the Aldrich-Vree-nd currency act. The President is ted to have it in his hands, and sign it before night. It makes possi-ble, should it be needful, the issue of pproximately a billion dollars of adnal circulation. The mere fact that this can be done is expected to make this can be done is expected to make any such large issue unnecessary.

A long step was taken last night toward the relief of Americans abroad and their return to this country by the passage of a bill appropriating $250,000 for this purpose. It was rushed through both houses on recommendation of the President.

The Senate today will consider the bill passed by the House to enable foreign ships to obtain American registry.

Bill For Naval Mail Service

At the same time, the House will take up the Weeks bill, rushed through the Senate Monday, under which certain naval vessels, twentytwo in number, could be used for mail, two in number, could be used for mail, freight, and passenger purposes hetween this country and South America and this country and Europe.

It is expected, furthermore, that the President will send to the Senate today the nomination of a man for the Federal Reserve Board to succeed Thomas D. Jones. The Banking and Currency Committee probably will act favorably on the nomination for the board of Paul M. Warburg.

Everywhere, there is insistence that the Federal Reserve Board must be organized and, what is more important, that the organization of the new Federal Reserve system must not be delayed. A sanguine feeling pervaded Congress and Aministration circles today. Thought the full horror of general war in Europe is appreciated and the inconvenience it will cause, is not mnimized, there is a pronounced sentiment that this country will escape serious injury.
